

Justice facility nears capacity

BY D.C. HARVILL

With more people incarcerated than ever before, the Hancock County Justice Facility is approaching capacity.

Ninety-six inmates currently are housed in the facility, built in 1986, that was designed to house 100 prisoners.

The situation is not critical, however, Sheriff Ronnie Peterson said, because the number is not likely to remain so high.

According to Peterson, several factors have contributed to the jail's growing population, including the housing of federal inmates, a major source of jail operating capital.

The facility currently houses 25 illegal aliens for the U.S. Immigration and Naturalization Service (INS). At times the number rises to 30, according to Jail Warden Gerald Necaise.

Each of the INS detainees nets the county $45 a day, according to the sheriff.

The facility also houses a number of state prisoners who cannot be taken into the already crowded state penal institutions or who are retained to work at the county farm, Peterson said.

"It is hard to get state prisoners into the penitentiary because it is overcrowded, too," Necaise said.

The county receives $10 each day for each state prisoner, Necaise said.

For the month of August, the jail will receive $51,000 for housing state and federal prisoners, enough to cover the jail's operating expenses, according to Necaise.

"If we didn't have that source of revenues, the county would have to come up with a lot of money to operate the jail," Peterson said.

Another factor contributing to the jail's burgeoning population is an increase in the number of people being incarcerated for drunken driving. Under a new DUI law that went into effect July 1, jail terms have been stiffened for repeat offenders.

"We are seeing a lot of fourth and fifth-time offenders," Peterson said. "I also think judges now are more likely to sentence people to time in jail."

"When the jail was built no one had any idea that we would be housing federal prisoners," the sheriff said.

Peterson said the jail's population is likely to drop soon, because the state has improved its parole system and should be able to house more of its own prisoners.

Also, a number of prisoners will be getting out on bond and others will have served their terms, the sheriff said.

"The only time we have a problem is if we have to isolate a prisoner for any reason," Peterson said.

Longo asked to withdraw Colson resignation request

BY DENA BISNETTE

Waveland Mayor John Longo Jr. has refused an attorney's demand that he withdraw a request for resignation of Alderman Curtis Colson, while the alderman contends that no illegal action was taken and remains on the board.

Longo asked for Colson's resignation last month in a furor over a fire lane easement for a building Colson is constructing next to Choctaw Plaza Shopping Center.

Colson said at Tuesday's meeting that he disagrees with some of the information contained in the minutes of the July 19 meeting, when the request was made.

He abstained from voting when the rest of the board, with the exception of the absent Stella Fritot, voted on the minutes.

The fire lane controversy involved the alleged verbal approval of the easement by Samuel Longiotti, president of Plaza Associates, Inc., which owned the property adjacent to Colson's at the time the plat was approved by the zoning board. However, the property was sold to a group of local businessmen and the new owners complained that there was no easement.

Colson said Tuesday that he and his attorney, Michael Prestia, are in the process of correcting the problem by purchasing an easement from the new owners.

Alderman Barbara Rappold defended Colson, arguing that the matter should be dropped.

"I don't think it was done maliciously," she said, referring to Colson's representation of the situation at the time his fire lane request was presented to the board. Prestia has contended that his client believed he had the easement at the time after having made private telephone negotiations with Longiotti.

Longo, however, has argued that he requested the resignation because he believes Colson voted on his own fire lane request, not as a result of the Withdrawal of rate increase delays supervisors' decision on utility district proposal

BY DENA BISNETTE

An attorney's opinion regarding the proposed Diamondhead Water and Sewerage District has been delayed due to a new development in a rate increase case now pending before the Mississippi Public Service Commission.

In early July, the Hancock County Board of Supervisors conducted a public hearing at the request of Diamondhead Water and Sewer Improvement, Inc., an association of Diamondhead residents who want to form a new utility district.

The association is interested in purchasing the existing water and sewerage system and operating it as a non-profit company, if a district can be formed.

The supervisors have asked their attorney, Gerald Gex, to provide an opinion on the proposal for the district in order that the board have some legal guidance on which to base its decision.

At the time of the hearing, the utility systems' owner, Peter J. Casano, had a rate increase request pending before the Mississippi Public Service Commission.

Casano said Monday he is withdrawing the request and plans to resubmit it with updated information.

Gex, who commented that he has spoken only to the attorneys involved in the hearing and not to Casano himself, told the board Monday that he is writing a letter to the commission to determine the official status of the rate increase request.

Casano, also a Diamondhead resident, purchased the water and sewerage system in May and renamed it Mississippi Utilities.

He had had a management contract for the system, formerly Diamondhead Utilities, for more than a year; he said he had asked for the rate increase with the intent of improving the utilities.

He explained that he "lost time" when members of the association protested against the transfer of stock which turned ownership over to him, but will go on with his plans.

Casano withdrew his rate increase request because commission officials and his attorneys advised him that filing a new one would be easier than amending the original request.

He said Monday that he is uncertain about when the new request will be filed because new information is being gathered.

The data on which the original request was based is now more than a year old, and Casano is trying to find out now exactly how much the costs of improving the system may have increased.

His original estimate was about $2 million.

JUVENILE BURGLARY

Two juveniles were arrested Tuesday by Hancock County Sheriff's Department in connection with the burglary of three Pearlinton residences.

The juveniles, 15 and 17-years-old, have been charged with grand larceny and turned over to the Hancock County Youth Facility. The youths allegedly took various pieces of fishing equipment from the residences on or about July 20, according to Investigator Delbert Seay.

The arrests were made by Deputy Greg Lichenstein and Constable Gary Bennett. All items taken have been recovered, Seay said.

MORE JUVENILE CRIME

Bay St. Louis Police arrested a 17-year-old juvenile Saturday on multiple charges shortly after he allegedly burglarized a Third Street home.

The subject was arrested by Officers David Parker and Rene Riviera at the corner of Bookter and St. Francis Streets about 10:40 p.m. July 29, according to officer Shane Corr.

The juvenile is charged with simple possession of a controlled substance, marijuana, burglary and grand larceny. He is being held in the Hancock County Justice Facility's juvenile detention center pending a youth court trial, Corr said.

Defense Appropriations Committee approves 1990 ammo plant funding

U.S. Rep. Larkin Smith announced Tuesday that the House Appropriations Committee has approved FY 1990 funding for the Mississippi Army Ammunition Plant.

The committee earmarked $90 million to continue production at the plant in Hancock County. The amount is enough to continue production of 155mm ammunition at the rate of 180,000 per year through the end of 1990.

The full House is expected to vote on the Appropriations bill on Friday.

Rep. Bob Livingston, a member of the Defense Appropriations Subcommittee, successfully included language in the defense appropriations bill to include the Mississippi ammo plant.

"We have worked with Bob Livingston. We have worked with Jamie Whitten (chairman of the Appropriations Committee). We have worked with Sonny Montgomery. And we have worked with other members of the Mississippi congressional delegation to see that the millions of dollars that have been spent on the nation's first totally computerized ammunition manufacturing plant will not be thrown away," Smith said.

"We continue to feel that the Mississippi ammo plant's future is a bright one. We want to push forward with efforts to arrange sales to Korea and other foreign countries.

"We are eagerly awaiting completion of the GAO survey and a look at all ammunition procurement in this country, and we look forward to the plant competing on a head-to-head basis."

The Army had announced in January that it intended to mothball the $640 million plant in a phased-in effort beginning

ETV hosts Faulkner fest

William Faulkner's tale of love between two lonely people comes to Mississippi ETV when the feature film "Tomorrow" starring Robert Duvall is broadcast at 9 p.m., Friday, Aug. 4.

This Faulkner story, based on the short story of the same name, centers on Jackson Fentry, Duvall, a Mississippi cotton farmer who leaves his father's barren farm to become the watchman at a sawmill in a nearby county. While patrolling the grounds, he finds a collapsed Sarah Eubanks (Olga Bell).

Fentry takes the pregnant Sarah in and nurses her back to wakening health.

"Tomorrow" tells the story of the innocent and muted love that grows between these two lonely and inarticulate people of the earth, carrying them through the ordeals of a harrowing pregnancy and child birth and culminating in a baffling murder trial.

The dramatization of a young boy's coming-of-age from the Faulkner short story "The Bear" follows at 10:40 p.m.

What happens when a black man is falsely accused of the murder of a white man in Mississippi? William Faulkner's talent of a young boy's attempts to make right his debt to the elderly black man who saved his life comes to Mississippi ETV when the film "Intruder in the Dust" airs at 7:30 p.m., Thursday, Aug. 3.

This "Faulkner Festival" Spring follows young "Chick" Mallon as he works to save Isaac Beauchamp from a lynch mob in Faulkner's mythical Yoknapatawpha County. Along the way the young boy finds murder and deceit are rampant in his hometown.

This murder mystery tale, with a cast of characters only Faulkner could create, stars David Brann, Claude Jarman Jr., Jesus Hernandez, Porter Hall and Elizabeth Patterson.

Funding for "Intruder in the Dust" on Mississippi ETV is provided by Paul Monk Volvo.

controversy over property ownership.

Colson and Rappold both argue that he had abstained, but city minutes show that he voted.

Longo has explained that he interprets applicable statutes to mean that an alderman who votes on a matter involving personal monetary gain is committing a violation.

Some procedures have changed at the board meetings. In addition to the city clerk and another staff member taking notes, the meetings are now recorded on audio tape. In addition, Longo now calls for roll call votes on everything, including routine matters like minutes and bills.

After the board discontinued discussion of the Colson matter and had completed most of the meeting agenda, Prestia asked to address the board and told Longo he wanted the request for resignation withdrawn.

When Longo refused to withdraw the request until an investigation of some sort can be conducted to prove whether or not there is some kind of conflict involved in the fire lane vote, Board Attorney Lucien Gex commented that a mayor can ask an alderman to resign, but can not force him to do so.

Gex said the matter might have been closed, at least for the Tuesday night meeting, after discussion of the minutes if Prestia had not addressed the board.

As far as a conflict on Colson's part is concerned, Longo stated, "If there isn't one, then no problem."

When Prestia issued the board copies of a faxed letter from Longetti regarding telephone conversations about the easement, Longo countered that the letter was dated Aug. 1 but dealt with a matter going all the way back to February.

Gex alleged that Prestia was attempting to "try this case" in the board meeting, as Prestia had alleged that Longo had done at the previous meeting.

"Isn't he voting tonight?" Longo asked. "We're recognizing him as an alderman at this meeting."

Longo also disputed Prestia's allegation that he had made derogatory comments about Colson in a television interview aired the same night as the meeting, saying he had actually avoided speaking to station representatives who had been calling him.

"I'm not going to do anything to prejudice this case," the mayor said. "If you want to make a court case out of it, I'm sure my attorney will accommodate you."

"The system's not bad at all, but it definitely needs to be expanded in capacity," he said, explaining that the original utilities were installed about 20 years ago.

Rates are also out-of-date, Casano explained, because with the current $4 minimum for water and $9 minimum for sewerage, the system is losing money.

He had asked for a combined rate of about $38 minimum, but that may also change when new operations, maintenance and improvement cost information is obtained.

Right now, despite the need for improvement, Casano said his utilities are in compliance with all regulations at this time.

Casano said he is not against the formation of a utility district if someone can prove to him that services would be better for Diamondhead residents, but he does not want to work with the improvement association.

"They have been sabotaging my efforts; right now, I'm combating a lot of misinformation," Casano stated.

He alleged that association representatives have started rumors that his system is below standard, since an existing system must be ruled inadequate before a district can be created.

"They've said I was being fined. I have never been fined a nickel," he explained.

The utilities owner also said he had, prior to the hearing, notified the supervisors in writing that he was not opposed to the district.

"What I was fighting was these people who were fighting my transfer," he said, referring to the May stock sale which made him owner of the company.

"Either way, there would have had to be a rate increase."

Exactly when the new rate increase request will be filed with the Public Service Commission depends on how long it takes to obtain the new estimates, Casano added. He said that procedure had already started.

Bearing with us

Well-travelled bear heads west

BY D.C. HARVILL

The southern black bear that caused such a stir in Bay St. Louis last week seems to have abandoned the city for a more rural mode of life.

The Department of Conservation said it has heard nothing about the bear this week and has given up its efforts to catch it for relocation. But two reports from people in the Lakeshore area (who wished not to be identified) indicate the bear has headed west into a less-populated area.

According to one report, the bear has been dining on pears and honey. The honey supposedly was gleaned from someone's hive, the pears from a tree in their backyard.

Another report had the bear about half-a-mile further west, enjoying one of summertime's favorite treats, watermelons, it found just lying around—in someone's patch.

Department of Conservation officers had been attempting to capture the bear in the Cedar Point section of Bay St. Louis, where, last week, it apparently had been supporting itself by tipping garbage cans.

Last week, Conservation Officer William Collins said the bear was estimated to be 250 to 300 pounds. He stressed that the animals are protected by state and federal laws which bear heavy penalties.

Bears usually have a range of 15 to 20 square miles, Collins said.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

Many of us are relieved now with Hurricane Chantal as history.

We were lucky to have only received heavy rain and some gusty winds.

Our grounds are now super-saturated because of the many inches of rain we have had in recent weeks.

I almost needed a tractor to cut my grass last Sunday, as it seemed to rain every time I had time to do it during the previous two weeks.

The hottest action around still appears to be the Hancock County Fitness Trail in front of Hancock Medical Center.

It seems there are new walkers each day taking advantage of the popular facility which is not really complete as yet.

Some topsoil has to still be placed alongside the walk in many areas. It has rained so much during the past two months that the county crews have been unable to return the topsoil fill.

Hilda Boone, Hancock County Parks and Recreation director reports the facility will be completed as soon as weather permits.

The Bay St. Louis Garden Club and Hancock County Chamber of Commerce are now working with Aura Grege, a certified landscape architect doing the master plan for the fitness trail.

Kenneth McDonald, has donated numerous shrubs, trees and ground cover material to fertilize for the fitness trail.

The Bay St. Louis Garden Club is also working with landscape architect to provide benches.

Businesses, service organizations and individuals who would like to donate can contact Bourg at 467-9048, the Chamber at 467-9048.

Donations should include benches, water fountains, benches, picnic tables, playground equipment for children, and waste disposal collectors.

One of the primary reasons for securing the fitness trail is to keep everything in the fitness trail with the fitness trail in the fitness trail.

Vietnam Memorial project on fast track

Back in 1985, a group of Vietnamese Americans came up with the idea of a Mississippi Vietnam Veterans Memorial to honor the men and women from our state who served in Southeast Asia.

They presented the plan to the staff of the Biloxi Veterans Center and then teamed with Mississippi Vietnam veterans in the Gulf Coast area to start the ball rolling. Their work has turned into a very impressive project.

In 1988, the group selected a site for the memorial and it was conveyed to them by the City of Biloxi. They also moved quickly to secure the help of Mississippi State University's School of Architecture to come up with possible designs for the project.

Earlier this year, the Mississippi Legislature got involved by authorizing the construction of a Mississippi Vietnam Veterans Memorial on the Gulf Coast and provided authority for the counties and municipalities to donate to the project.

Since that time, Mississippi State's architects have submitted nine design proposals, in addition to one proposed by the Vietnamese community in the Gulf Coast area. The designs will be evaluated this fall with the final selection slated to be made in April 1990.

The Memorial Committee provided the architects with several ideas about what should be displayed at the Memorial. They want it to be a tribute, first of all, to the 637 Mississippians who died in the Vietnam War.

They also want to especially honor the 18 men still listed as missing in action. Others will be recognized, too, including women and minorities who served in Vietnam, as well as a tribute to the Vietnamese people and their struggle for freedom.

COOK IN WASHINGTON—Bay St. Louis attorney Henry Cook, III, center, meets with U.S. Congressman G.V. (Sonny) Montgomery, right, and Congressman Mike Parker of Mississippi seeking support for the Vietnam Memorial to be constructed in Biloxi. Cook is chairman of the Mississippi Vietnam Veterans Memorial Committee to construct the memorial and is seeking local, state and national support. Cook spent a week in Washington meeting with Montgomery, Parker, Senator Trent Lott, Senator Thad Cochran, Congressman Jamie Whitten, Congressman Mike Espy and Congressman Larkin Smith. Those interested in making a contribution or assisting may contact Cook at 466-4371.

been set up for the project, with the committee planning to seek contributions from veterans groups as well as social, civic, fraternal and military organizations and corporate donors.

"Henry Cook, who chairs the committee, and his colleagues have done their job well. I am confident that the end result will be a memorial for which we can all be proud, and one that will be an honored tribute to the men and women who served this country in Southeast Asia," commented Congressman Sonny Montgomery.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

NASA must provide answers to ASRM project questions

To the Editor,
According to the feature article in the Sea Coast Echo of July 27, 1989, written by D. C. Harvill, each test firing of the Advanced Solid Rocket Motor at Stennis Space Center will produce 114 tons of hydrogen chloride gas—gas, not liquid; imagine the volume of such a quantity; it's around 69 billion cubic centimeters.

It will also release 181 tons of aluminum oxide particulate into the atmosphere. But, as the government points out, it will create 150 jobs at Stennis Space Center.

Hydrogen chloride gas is hygroscopic (water or water vapor absorbing) and this results in the production of pure hydrochloric acid. Along with the water produced by burning of the propellant during the firings and the ever present water vapor found in our moisture-laden south Mississippi air, turning the gas into acid will be a lead pipe cinch.

Hydrochloric acid, a strong acid, is highly destructive to organic and inorganic matter. And if by chance, the hydrogen chloride remains in its gaseous state, it too could attack—for instance, the delicate cilia in our lungs which aid in the elimination of fluid build-up.

Aluminum oxide, another by-product of the test firings with which we should also be concerned, is known to be injurious to plants, but when ingested or inhaled, is suspected of being a component cause of Alzheimer's disease.

As a former NASA employee who held responsible positions for the acquisition of production and test facilities for the Apollo and Shuttle programs, I am not unfamiliar with Environmental Impact Statements. Relying on the fact-filled report of Mr. Harvill, it is apparent that the Environmental Impact Statement for the SSC ASRM project is indeed flawed.

Residents of the affected area should pose hard questions to NASA and we should expect to be given straight answers in no uncertain terms. These questions should include, but not be limited to the following:

- How many potential businesses would abandon their plans or not even give consideration to moving to this part of Mississippi because of the threat of acid rain and aluminum oxide particulate fall-out? How would such potential losses stack up against the 150 promised jobs?

- How much acceleration in the deterioration of our homes, commercial properties, bridges and other facilities vulnerable to hydrochloric acid rain is worth 150 jobs?

- How many trees, birds and animals are worth 150 jobs?
- Far worse is the specter of the deleterious effect on human health and the threat to the lives of people in the surrounding areas of Pearl River, Hancock and Harrison counties. How does his dismal prospect, adequate to 150 jobs?

My wife and I have three of our children, two in-laws, and eight grandchildren living in Waveland—so one can easily see why we are deeply concerned about the potential threat that these planned tests will have on our loved ones.

I note that the two persons in Mr. Harvill's article who could be termed supporters of the EIS live far to the north of our area—Huntsville, Ala. and Washington, D.C.

Sincerely,
Mike Myers

Humane Society grateful for support of project

To the Editor:
Thanks to the continuing support of the citizens of Hancock County we earned more than $2,500 for our Shelter Fund through our home furnishings sale.

We heartily thank the Sea Coast Echo for the great publicity. We also thank the Sheriff's Department, particularly Captain Gerald Necaize and Deputy Russell Watts for helping us move the furniture to the Community Center.

With everyone working together this way, we will not only move mountains, we will build our Hancock County Humane Society Shelter.

IN CONGRESS

By Congressman

LARKIN SMITH

President's clean air legislation is good start

Mississippi enjoys clean air and a clean environment. We must work to keep it that way.

However, other areas of the country are not so lucky. These areas have grown but have damaged their environment.

I have endorsed the Bush administration's clean air bill, which was introduced recently in the House of Representatives. The bill would amend the Clean Air Act for the first time since 1977.

Those areas with problems tell me they need relief. We should act now so they can repair their problems. And we should act now to protect the future of our own environment.

The bill I have cosponsored is not perfect. No single bill addressing this issue is perfect. But the president's bill is a good starting point for the process.

Mississippi is struggling with some other serious problems: jobs, poverty, education, roads, health care. And we have limited funds to deal with these problems. Our economy will have to grow to solve these problems.

Clean air legislation, in its final form, must to the following:

- Be cost-effective for Mississippians.
- Minimize the economic burden on our citizens and industries.
- Allow us to catch up with other areas in economic development while minimizing any ill effects on our environment.

I intend to work to ensure that this bill meets these goals for Mississippi.

NOBEL PRIZE FOR ENVIRONMENTAL ACHIEVEMENT

On a related matter, I have cosponsored a House resolution to urge the Nobel Commission to consider awarding Nobel Prize recognition for achievements in preservation of the world environment.

Such a prize would recognize outstanding individuals who have made significant contributions to our awareness of and responsibility for the environment.

PRCC to operate Vo-tech, charge districts per pupil

Pearl River Community College's Board of Trustees approved a plan Tuesday that will turn the expense of operating secondary vocational programs over to the secondary school districts in Forrest, Lamar and Hancock counties by 1992.

Pearl River will continue to operate its centers, in the three counties, under the same agreement for the 1989-90 school year; however, July 1, 1990 changes will be made at each facility.

The PRC Board has voted to turn over its Lamar County Center in Purvis to the Lamar County School Board, but it decided to keep the Forrest and Hancock County facilities.

The college will administer the secondary programs at the two centers and then charge the participating districts on a per-pupil basis.

A seven-person committee of the PRC board has been studying the secondary vocational education issue since March, at which time the overall PRC board voted to make a decision on the problem by at least January of 1990.

"The board endeavored to treat each vocational center and each school district involved fairly," said Dr. Thomas Blakeney, chairman of the PRC board, "however, we have not been able to treat each vocational center uniformly."

Blakeney said that each center serves a different clientele, and will provide different services in the future.

"I think the board can use this plan to meet the needs of the community college and at the same time be fair to all the school districts and vocational centers involved," said Blakeney.

Pearl River will turn the facilities and operation of the Lamar County Vocational Center over to the Lamar County School District on July 1, 1990.

During the 1990-91 school year, PRC will contribute to the Lamar County Board of Education a sum not to exceed $70,301 for operation of the center.

During the '91-92 school year, PRC will contribute a sum not to exceed $35,150 and after June 30, 1992, Pearl River College will have no further monetary obligation to the Lamar County Vocational Center.

PRC will continue to administer the Forrest County Vocational-Technical Center. However, beginning the 1990-91 school year, the college will compute the cost of the secondary programs by figuring the actual cost of the college's operational budget for teacher's salaries, fringe benefits, instructional supplies and its proportional costs for utilities.

This computation will include 50 percent of the cost of the director's salary, as well as secretarial salaries. Other costs such as counselors and janitorial services will be included on a pro-rata basis.

Pearl River College is currently administering nine secondary vocational programs, four post-secondary courses, three JTPA institutional courses, 14 adult continuing education courses and five industrial service programs at the Forrest Center.

Plans are to soon begin construction on a $2.7 million allied health facility adjacent to the present center.

During the 1990-91 school year, PRC will provide no more than $72,344 for the operation of the secondary programs. During the 91-92 year PRC will provide not more than $36,172. PRC will compute the balance owed for secondary programs and divide the costs on a per pupil basis and bill the school district responsible.

In Hancock County a similar arrangement has been approved. PRC will continue to operate the Hancock County Vocational Center with the costs being computed on the actual cost to the college's operational budget, including all salaries, fringe benefits, supplies, utilities and other costs except maintenance and capital improvement.

During the 1990-91 school year, PRC will provide 50 percent of the cost of operating the center or an amount not to exceed $72,344. The school districts being served will be billed for the remainder of the cost.

During the 1991-92 school year, PRC will provide 25 percent of the cost of operating, not to exceed $36,172. By July 1, 1992, the school districts being served by the Hancock Center will be responsible for the entire cost of the operation of the center. The cost to each district will be determined by the number of pupils served.

HEALTH FAIR

Thanks to our own Hancock Medical Center, we will be having a free health fair here at our center on Aug. 8 from 8:30 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. Deborah Vick is coordinating the fair for the hospital, and RSVP and the center are providing the center and the extra help.

Services being offered will include:

Blood pressure check
Cholesterol and blood sugar level (glucose)
Hearing test
Dietary information and assistance

Those wishing to have their blood sugar levels tested should fast. It is also more accurate if you fast for the cholesterol test.

We will be serving bran muffins furnished by the hospital and juice furnished by the Waveland American Legion Auxiliary, so don't worry about having to wait to eat. We will have coffee also. Most of our generation can't live without coffee!

RSVP volunteers will assist manning the stations for these tests, and as most of you know—that's you. Most of our seniors are part of both programs—we do for you and RSVP does with you to help you do for others.

WPSL-1190
Don't forget the "mighty 1190" on your radio dial. We have a five-minute program at 7:30 a.m. each weekday, and we give you our schedule for the day, comments on senior affairs, coming events, menu for the day and a thought for the day. We have had many comments about this program from people around town and also from Biloxi, so we know some of you are listening. Thanks!

SUMMER WORKERS
We have been blessed with three good summer workers this year. They really pitched in and helped when Tee Oliver had to go to the hospital for a couple of days. Nikki Bell, Matt Fairconnetue and Shelama Tillman, we thank you and wish

NEW CLASS

We will be starting a new class with RSVP for those folks who used to go to the VA with RSVP on the first Monday of the month. Since this activity has been cancelled we are forming a paper flower class with Jo Ann Lagasse as the teacher.

The class will meet in the conference room at 2 p.m. on Aug. 7 and Sept. 11 (due to Labor Day).

The class will be making flowers to put on the doors of the patients in the nursing homes for Christmas. This is a long-range objective, but it will take time to do this for all of the nursing homes that they visit. Should be fun—come and join in!

The findings of environmental scientists in areas such as ozone depletion, the greenhouse effect, deforestation and acid rain are already leading to a profound change in public consciousness. A Nobel Prize would do even more to promote awareness of these issues and the need to protect the environment.

A Nobel Prize would be an added incentive for scientists to find out more about our environment. In Congress, we're certainly going to need all the facts we can get as we begin to deal with more and more legislation involving environmental issues such as the Clean Air Act.

THE SEA COAST ECHO—THURSDAY, AUGUST 3, 1989-1B

SECTION B

Time Out

By Dena Bisnette

Football season is just around the corner. Over here at The Sea Coast Echo, we are getting football schedules and announcements in every week. We'll be bringing you more football news a little closer to the beginning of the season.

Although I don't really get into it as much until the evenings cool off, football is my favorite spectator sport and Coast area football is at the top of my list.

In fact, football was the very first sport I ever tried to write about, and it only took one story to get me hooked. I hope to see good seasons at the local schools, hopefully with lots of wins and few injuries.

All Bay Junior High football players (seventh and eighth grade) must obtain their own physicals by Monday in order to play.

Physicals are available at 4:30 p.m. today at the physical therapy clinic of Hancock Medical Center.

Players should bring a copy of the physical to the first practice, which begins at 8 a.m. Monday.

Among the new baseball players signed at Pearl River Community College this year is Doug Power, who played last year at Bay High.

Power is a good player and we know he will be an asset to the Wildcats.

Winner in the Friday round robin tennis tournament at Diamondhead was Susan Ritten, Tennis World Pro Lis Lagarde said. Bill Plue tied for second with Paris Johnson.

On Sunday, Lambert Boyd of Waveland won, followed by Charlie McCaughan in second place.

The tournaments are not limited only to Diamondhead residents and anyone is welcome to play. For information, contact Lagarde at 255-2525, ext. 300.

Diamondhead's swim team will end its first season Friday and Saturday with a two-day meet at the Biloxi Natatorium.

The team has done well for its first season and we wish them luck in the tournament this weekend.

Power House of Deliverance will host a volleyball tournament and field day Saturday, beginning at 10 a.m. at 264 1/2 Washington Street.

The tournament itself starts at 1 p.m. For more information, call 466-3841.

Kristy Heitzmann of Bay St. Louis received the Most Improved Player Award in the advanced tournament competition level at the recent University of Southern Mississippi Tennis Camp.

The daughter of Jerry and Debbie Heitzmann, Kristy will get to try out her newly refined skills next week, when she competes in the Gulfport Racquet Club Tournament. Tournament dates are Aug. 9-13.

Mississippi Gulf Running Club and Pizza Hut are hosting a 5K run and one-mile fun run at 8 a.m. Saturday. The race begins next to the Highway 90 Shoney's in Biloxi.

Entry information is available from Lindo Sullivan at 832-6071 or Amanda Nickel at 864-6954.

This race is a little different because a pre-race social and runner's workshop will be held the night before from 7 p.m. until 9 p.m. at the Biloxi Beach Motel.

How many Tulane Alumni do we have out there who haven't heard about the shrimp boil at Charlie Fridge's home in Gautier? The event is actually a meeting of the Mississippi Gulf Coast Chapter of the Tulane Green Wave Club and begins at 6 p.m. Saturday.

Special guests will include the Tulane athletic director and football and baseball coaches. For information, call Bo Lamey at 864-8000.

The Echo has been running Time Out for about five months now and I would like to thank the public for the good response we've had. At the same time, I need to remind all of you who contribute to Time Out that the deadline for Thursday's sports page is noon on Tuesday. If an exception to that deadline is needed, please call me at 467-5474.

Merrigan takes first in Lipton eliminations

Skipper Charlie Merrigan and his crew of Linn Montjoy and Davis Weems took top honors in last weekend's Junior Lipton Team Eliminations at the Bay-Waveland Yacht Club.

In four races, the team was low scorer with a final point tally of 7.75.

Capturing second place was skipper Missy Breath and crew, Konnie Merrigan and Jean Williams with 8.75 points.

A third place victory was claimed by skipper Judd Crane and crew Richard Heausler and Nick Walker who tallied 10.75 points.

Coming in fourth was Wayne Murphy, skipper, and crew Paul Bernadas and Mark Carter with 11.75 points.

The skippers taking the first, second and third places will proceed to the Junior Lipton Regatta in two weeks, which will be hosted by Southern Yacht Club in New Orleans.

Post 139 team heads to state

BY DENA BISNETTE

The 1989 State American Legion Baseball Tournament begins Friday at 9 a.m. in Pontotoc, and Post 139 will be among the competitors.

Bay St. Louis will face Booneville at 9:30 a.m. Friday for its first game. The winner of that game will face Corinth at 12:30

Saturday, then play either Bruce or Tupelo on Monday, Coach Frank Perniciaro said.

Games should continue until Tuesday, with the last possible game scheduled for 8 p.m.

Other teams playing will include Cleveland, Southhaven, Senatobia, Jackson, Pontotoc and Meridian.

Post 139 goes into the tournament with 17-7 record. Pitching records for the year include Cedric Smith, 6-2; Will Seymour, 5-4; Mike Marshall, 3-1; and David Weems, 3-0.

Leading hitters included shortstop David Weems, with an average of .393 and 15 stolen bases. Following Weems is center fielder Scott Heitzmann, with a .371 average and five home runs.

Also finishing the season with top hitting records were Smith, with an average of .322 and 17 steals, and center fielder Ronald Doyle, with a .298 average, three homers and 21 steals.

Winners told in Sportsman's annual Kids Fishing rodeo

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Winners in the sixth annual Gulf Coast Kids Fishing Rodeo were announced with the closing of scales at 5 p.m. Saturday.

Members of the Sportsman's Club termed the rodeo a success with some 300 youngsters participating.

Every registrant received a free Coke and hot dog and in addition to trophies for first, second and third places in several categories, drawings from the names of participants were held for many additional fishing related gifts.

Many of the prizes were donated by local merchants.

King Fisherman honors went to David Green with Erica Hardie being named Queen Fisherman.

The winners in the various categories were as follows:

—SPECKLED TROUT—Melissa LaFontaine, first; D.J. Henley, second; and Keene Rauxet, third.

—CROAKER—Gus McKay

III, first; Matt Whitman, second; and Stacey Perkins, third.

—FLOUNDER—Erica Hardie, first; Al Kingston, second; and Boogie Stewart, third.

—RED FISH—Candice Jordan, first; Jimmy Fountain, second; and Erica Hardie, third.

—LARGEST FISH—Claudette Garcia, first; Ben Carver, second; and Robbie Bourgeois, third.

—WHITE TROUT—Stephanie Hewes, first; Brandon Higgins, second; and Erin Burge, third.

—PERCH—Ty Barrett, first; Chris Brignac, second; and Michelle Perniciaro, third.

—GREEN TROUT—Ryan Olson, first; Casey Heitzmann, second; and Chris Brignac, third.

—CRAB—Casey Stone, first; Thomas Jones, second; and Rocky Henley, third.

—GROUND MULLET—Erin Burge, first; Brandon Higgins, second; and Kevin Koerner, third.

rodeo chairman; Bo Jordan, president; Sam Perniciaro Jr., vice-president and Danny White, member. Many of the prizes awarded the youngsters were donated to the Sportsman's Club by local merchants.

Gill net, purse seine workshops set by Bureau Marine Resources

State Bureau of Marine Resources officials are looking for participants in a series of workshops aimed at reviewing and rewriting gill net and purse seine laws.

The workshops are scheduled to begin the first week in September. Prospective participants should contact the BMR at 385-5860 no later than Aug. 23.

"The more points of view we have at the workshops, the better our ordinances will be," said Chris Snyder, BMR public relations representative, who will be coordinating the workshops.

In its last session, the state Legislature gave the state Department of Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks authority to rewrite the ordinances after consulting with representatives of the gill-net and purse-seine industries.

Gill nets are nets that harvest fish by allowing fish to swim through the mesh of the net then trapping the fish by their gills.

Purse seines are efficient nets that are pulled in circles around schools of fish trapping the fish in sack of netting.

Recreational fishermen claim that purse seines and gill nets are too efficient and take too many sport fish from the water. Purse seiners say that the use of the nets are so carefully regulated that their use results in minimum damage to the ecology.

Gill netters claim that laws restricting net mesh sizes make gill nets the most selective type of net fishing. Commercial fishermen claim that a gill net is a passive gear, the use of which results in no damage to the ecology.

The facilitative workshop program was begun at the BMR two years ago and has been successful in resolving some major conflicts in the fishing industry.

Most recently the workshop program was used to re-evaluate laws controlling the live-bait industry. The workshops resulted in a revised live-bait ordinance passed by the Commission on Wildlife, Fisheries and Parks.

Both live-bait fishermen and BMR staff members agreed that the new ordinance is enforceable and will benefit the ecology and the live-bait industry alike.

The workshop program has also been successful in formulating blue crab and finfish regulations.

"The workshop process has worked in other areas, and we're confident that it can work for gill netting and purse sein-ing, too," Snyder said.

Six players receive awards at Ladner basketball school

BY DENA BISNETTE

The first annual Ladner School of Basketball at Bay Senior High School has resulted in awarded for six of the participants.

According to Jay Ladner, one of the instructors, Michelle Lagarde of Pearl River Central High School took both awards in the girls' junior high and high school division. She was one-on-one champion and free throw champion.

In the boys' division for grades three through seven, Vincent Moran of Gulfview Elementary School and Jamie Cuevas of Bay Catholic Elementary were two-on-two champions. Cuevas also won the free throw competition.

In the boys' grades eight through 12 competition, two-on-two champions were Shane Burch and James Mayfield, both of Bay High. Free throw champion was Shea Ladner of Corbett Junior High in San Antonio, Texas.

By High Head Coach Michael Ladner, an organizer and instructor for the camp, stated, "We had a great week of basketball with a wonderful group of young people."

"It was hot each night, but the boys and girls here stayed positive, worked hard and were very attentive and responded well to everything we asked of them."

"We are already looking forward to doing it again next summer."

Extravaganza scheduled August 4-6

The third annual Mississippi Wildlife Extravaganza, sponsored by the Mississippi Wildlife Federation, will be held Aug. 4-6 at the Trade Mart on the fairgrounds in Jackson.

The three-day sportsmen's event will feature dealers, manufacturers and exhibitors showing the latest in hunting, fishing, outdoor and wildlife-related products and services.

Bowshooting, turkey-calling, falconry and retrieving demonstrations will be presented by statewide sportsmen's organizations.

Dick Idol will bring his famous North American White-tail exhibit to the extravaganza and will present seminars throughout the show on white-tail hunting. Other experts will give seminars on wild turkeys, coyotes, hunting safety, Mississippi white-tails and wildlife photography.

A casting pond and archery and shooting ranges supervised by certified instructors will provide special activities for children in the Kid's Corner.

Smokey the Bear and Ranger Rick, the raccoon representative of the National Wildlife Federation, will make regular appearances.

The state's best bucks from the 1988-89 season will be featured in the federation's annual Big Buck Contest. Winners will be chosen in gun, archery and muzzleloader categories in youth, women's and men's divisions. Any deer taken in the last hunting season is eligible.

Some of Mississippi's most outstanding outdoor writers, including Robert H. Neill, Billy Ellis, Tony Kinton and Gene Nunnery, will be signing their books at an exhibit which will also display outdoor art by Sam Heibers and wildlife photography by Stephen Kirkpatrick. Stephen Kirkpatrick will be releasing his new book of waterfowl photography, Whistling Wings.

The Miller Pavilion, sponsored by United Beverage Inc. will provide a variety of foods and beverages and will feature live country music.

Show hours are from 3 p.m. to 9 p.m. on Friday, Aug. 4; from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. on Saturday, Aug. 5; and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sunday, Aug. 6.

Admission is $5 per day for adults and $3 for children under six through 12. Children under six will be admitted free.

For more information, call the Mississippi Wildlife Federation at 353-6922.

Leslie wins second ARCA event

Defending ARCA Permatex Super Car Series champion Tracy Leslie drove to his second consecutive victory at Talladega Superspeedway Saturday, winning the Talladega ARCA 500k.

Leslie, a 31-year-old Mt. Clemens, Mich. driver, led 89 of the race's 117 laps in his Pontiac Grand Prix, winning by 1.3 seconds over second place Dave Simko of Clarkston, Mich. in a Pontiac Grand Prix and Bob Studdard of Tennille, Ga. in a Chevrolet Monte Carlo.

In four career starts at Talladega Superspeedway, Leslie never has finished below eighth and is a perfect two victories in two starts for the 1989 season, having won the Bumper-To-Bumper 500k in May.

Leslie joins Davey Allison (1983) and Grant Adcox (1986, 1987) as the only ARCA Permatex Series drivers to sweep both Talladega events in the same season. He collected $14,320 for his second win of 1989 and 6th of his ARCA Permatex Series career.

A Talladega ARCA record $129,769 in posted awards attracted a record 46 entries for the event, including drivers from 17 states and Canada. There have now been 14 different winners in the 24 ARCA Permatex Series events run at Talladega Superspeedway since 1969.

Children spend summer onstage at Bay theatre

BY DENA BISNETTE

On Friday and Saturday night, children who attended a series of theatre workshops earlier this summer will be able to try their newly acquired skills onstage.

The group will present "When the Nerds Bit Beverly Hills," a comedy by Cynthia Mercati, at 8 p.m. each night at the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre's Boardman Avenue Playhouse.

The show, and the workshops which led up to it, originated with junior high teacher's aide Marie Bernard.

Her daughter Casey has appeared in a number of plays and participated in workshops in Gulfport, and Bernard felt there should be some kind of theatre project for children in the Bay-Waveland area.

She saw how much Casey enjoyed rehearsing and performing on a real stage in a real theatre setting and wanted to extend the opportunity to others.

Bernard herself has been involved for a long time in Deciding to go to the audition with Casey, she found she knew a number of the children.

"I was surprised to see that several of the theatre hopefuls were from the Bay area—and very talented," she said.

Before leaving Gulfport, she and Ladner decided to do a summer theatre project for children at Bay St. Louis, but one of the problems was what facility to use.

After a rumor surfaced that the Boardman Avenue playhouse might be demolished, the dormant Bay St. Louis Little Theatre regrouped for a revival effort.

"Things just sort of fell into place from there," Bernard explained.

She joined Bay St. Louis Little Theatre and not only received the support of the board of directors, but was appointed one herself.

The program began earlier this summer with a week of workshops on various theatre topics and jobs, then moved into regular rehearsals. For the project, Bernard recruited assis-

She even added some tips on costuming, which along with make-up will play a major part in "Nerds."

"When I picked the play, I deliberately chose something with a lot of character make-up and some heavy costuming. Children don't want to be made up to look normal; they want to do something different.

For the play, Bernard and her assistants will transform a group of children into a vampire family and costume a group of ordinary cute children as nerds. The script even includes a trio of punk rockers and a cheerleading squad.

The third workshop introduced the 30 young participants to common theatre terms and tasks, the basic structure of a play and such concepts as "Stage presence."

Try-outs were held in late June to determine which children would play which parts. A group of 26 were cast and four of the oldest in the group were assigned to the backstage and technical crew.

The entire group ranges from time is spent pretending; young people are full of dreams, imagination and energy. Children's theatre is a natural," she said. "The talent and enthusiasm these young actors and actresses display is remarkable...I can't wait for the community to share the pride that we at Bay St. Louis Little Theatre feel in these kids," Bernard added, saying rehearsals are going well.

Tickets for the performances are $2 for adults and $1 for children and will be available at the theatre lobby.

into younger and older groups to present two one-act plays.

She also plans to merge the new children's division of the Bay St. Louis Little Theatre with the adults to present a mixed-cast Christmas production.

The cast of "Nerds" includes Kenny Monti, Margaret Welz, Jennifer Storey, Casey Bernard, Jason Sick and Anna Benigno as the vampire family; Jason Mauffray and Becky Monti as a pair of summer camp counselors; and Tommy Marsh, Steven Mauffray and Tabitha and Beth Stechmann, Jack Ohman and Courtney Weeks as the band.

Monique Natal as the Beverly Hills gang; Amie Geary and Erin Favre as a pair of tourists; Megan Hemphill as the vampire hunter and Kimberly Storey as a reporter following her.

The set crew includes Jeremy Turcott, Jason Mauffray and Margaret Welz. Shelly Fayard and P.J. Mauffray are in charge of lights. Anna Gayaut is props and make-up manager and John Gayaut is stage manager.

church and school plays but had not actually been active in community theatre for some time.

The germ of the idea for the summer program came to her last summer.

"I had not been actively involved in community theatre for several years, when out of the blue on day last summer my friend Betty Ladner telephoned to see if my daughter was interested in going to try-outs for a children's production of 'Tom Sawyer' at Gulfport Little Theatre," Bernard explained.

tance from Ladner, Lois Wiltz, USM fine arts student Amye Harrison and Dena Bisnette.

The first session was an orientation and tour of the Boardman Avenue Playhouse and instruction on basic stage directions, theatre history and other background material.

For a make-up workshop, Bernard brought in several assistants and showed children basic stage make-up techniques as well as sneak previews of some of the characters in the play.

ages seven to 16, with most of the children on the younger side. A few have been in community theatre productions or school and church programs, but some have no stage experience at all.

An inexperienced actor is not a problem for Bernard, who is willing to guide the child until he or she becomes familiar with the stage.

"A great deal of every child's

LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE—Nine students from Hancock North Central and one from Bay High represented their schools at the first Mississippi State Association of Student Councils summer leadership conference held at Jones Junior College in Ellisville. Eighty-five junior high and high school students from 26 Mississippi schools attended the four-day event designed to teach participants how to constructively interact with their peers as well as adult authority figures. Local students who attended the conference, seated from left, are Vicky Israel and Russell Necaise from Hancock North Central, Micah Necaise from Bay High, Darlon Necaise and Christy Necaise, Hancock North Central; standing, Sheila Furey, Kimberly Sones, Ginger Roney, Jannie Killen and Monica Malley, all of Hancock North Central.

Pass Christian School superintendent releases registration dates, calendar

LeRoy Lizana, superintendent of Pass Christian Public School District, announced that new students enrolling in grades K-4 may report for registration at the Delisle Elementary or Pass Christian Elementary schools on any day, Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m.

New students in grades 5-8 should report to Pass Christian Middle School, and grades 9-12 to Pass Christian High School during the same hours.

Lizana noted that parents or guardians must accompany the students to the schools for registration. All students being presented for enrollment must have an official certified birth certificate bearing a state file number.

State law requires that all students enrolling in first grade must be six years of age on or before Sept. 1, 1989. Kindergarten enrollees must be five before Sept. 1, 1989.

In addition to the birth certificate, all students must have a health certificate that was issued by the county health department or a physician. The health certificate will certify that the child is free of communicable diseases.

Those students who have a (blue card) immunization record on file in the school office will not be issued new cards by the health department for the 1989-90 school term. Parents are urged to check the school offices prior to the opening date to ascertain if their child's record is on file.

The first day for the 1989-90 school term will be Wednesday, Aug. 23. Lizana indicated that the regular class schedules will be observed on that day. All district cafeterias will be operating and school buses will operate to transport all students who live one mile or more from the attendance center where enrolled.

Parents desiring additional information relative to the opening of school should contact the school office. All administrative personnel are on duty.

The 1989-90 school calendar for the Pass Christian Schools begins on Aug. 23, and ends on May 29, 1990. The calendar has 176 teaching days. The school year is divided into four academic nine-week terms.

Semester examinations are scheduled for Jan. 10, 11, 12, 1990, and final examinations are scheduled for May 25, 28, 29, 1990.

Bay songwriter pushes for hit with tune about New Orleans

BY D.C. HARVILL

Some people have a song and dance, Bay St. Louis resident Mike Parris, however, has only a song—one he hopes will catch on.

After pitching other people's songs and working various show business-related jobs in New York for more than 20 years, Parris returned to his native New Orleans and the Gulf Coast in the mid-70's to plug his own work.

Having written more than 50 songs with little success, Parris is pinning high hopes on his tune "Good Old New Orleans". He is leaving no stone unturned in his effort to push the song into the limelight.

Parris' original inspiration for the song was the 1984 New Orleans World's Fair. The fair's organizers, however, in the market for a song about the fair, not the city, passed on "Good Old New Orleans."

Being turned down by the fair did not kill Parris' enthusiasm for the tune. To the contrary, it seems to have strengthened his belief that the piece contains the right ingredients for a New Orleans theme song.

There have been numerous songs about the city, but none recently, he said.

"New Orleans needs a song that can lift the economy, that people can clap their hands to. Hopefully, mine will catch on," Parris said.

Parris, who studied music at Julliard and the Los Angeles City College, thinks "Good Old New Orleans", with its full compliment of New Orleans buzzwords, has what it takes—except for the right performer.

The song's lyrics begin:
*Good old New Orleans, the bayou's so near,
close to the river there's Mardi Gras cheer.
Red beans or gumbo now that's quite a dish, in good old New Orleans, I'll soon get my wish*

The list of people Parris has approached about the song reads like a "Who's Who" of the New Orleans music scene: Irma Thomas, Harry Connick Jr., Allen Toussaint, Pete Fountain, the Neville Brothers and Ronnie Krole, to name a few.

Patsy Ruella, a performer at the famous Crecent City night spot Pat O'Brien's, recently received a standing ovation after doing a rendition of the tune, Parris said.

"People seemed to enjoy it," he said.

Last year, Parris gained new hope for the song's future when Edward's Music Company in New Orleans published the tune.

"It's going to be recorded, possibly later this summer. They're also talking about a new Saints' theme song that may go on the flip side," Parris said.

In the mean time, not one to kick back and leave things to chance, Parris is making sure "Good Old New Orleans" is seen by anyone who might possibly give it a break.

"I'm doing my best. I'm just trying to cover all the angles. You never know," he said.

BHS reunion committee looks for students who attended wooden school

Special to the Echo

The Bay High reunion scheduled for September 22, 23 and 24 at Diamondhead Country Club will honor those students who attended the old wooden Bay High School built in the late 1800's.

In 1927, the school was vacated and facilities were moved Sunday, Sept. 24.

The reunion is unique in several respects: it is a reunion of and for any students who ever attended Bay High School—even for a day—from the old wooden school days to the present time. Even friends of those former students are welcome to attend and enjoy the festivities and the big 18-piece "Scar Duster Band" of Art Cissell.

The reunion committee requests the names and addresses of anyone who attended the "Old Bay High" so that they may join their fellow students and enjoy an outstanding weekend of fun and fellowship.

Please call Bertha Irene Koch Morris, 255-9492; Jim Evans, 467-9861; Pat Murphy, 467-6453; Hubert Cowand, 601-896-0803; or Beverly Davis Potts, New Orleans, 504-833-9602 with any information.

The "International Tiger Search Team," through their hard work, diligent efforts and professional searching techniques, have discovered numerous people who attended classes in the old wooden Bay High School building.

Most of these, if not all, plan to attend the reunion functions at Diamondhead Country Club and will be honored during the "Big Band Night" Sept. 23 and at a Bay High Tiger Brunch on

USM/Gulf Coast tutors youngsters in reading

Some University of Southern Mississippi/Gulf Coast students will tutor a limited number of elementary students in reading this fall at USM/Gulf Park in Long Beach.

Area second-through-sixth graders with reading difficulties will be accepted for individual tutoring on a first-come, first-served basis. They will be tutored by USM students enrolled in the sponsoring class—Diagnosis and Remediation of Reading Difficulties for the Classroom Teacher.

"The students will get one-to-one evaluation of their reading abilities followed by tutoring and a follow-up evaluation," said Dr. Nancy Maszta, a USM associate professor of curriculum and instruction, who teaches the course.

Parents of participating students will be involved in a pre-program orientation and a follow-up conference. The 12 tutoring sessions are scheduled to begin in mid-September, Maszta said. Sessions are set for Tuesdays and Thursdays from 3:15-4:05 p.m. at the USM/Gulf Park campus on U.S. 90 in Long Beach.

Parents who want their children to be considered for tutoring may call USM/Gulf Park at 865-4512.

Three months ago, Michael was running from his family. And from himself.

Today, he's taking life one step at a time. And his family's enjoying every minute of it.

Michael stopped running with the help of the skilled, dedicated people at Slidell Memorial's 2 North Psychiatric Unit.

Psychiatrists, psychologists, and specially-trained nurses, each with an uncommon sense of caring, worked with Michael to show him that the best parts of life were the times he took to really take a look at it.

Specialized treatment anyone can understand.

Psychiatric treatment can assume many forms over many years. Often, treatment is too complex for anyone to fully grasp.

But at 2 North Psych., through dramatic, occupational, recreational, and musical therapies, we encourage patients to use their feelings creatively, channeling them outward. Conflicts become smoother, questions are answered. And patients learn to grow, naturally and emotionally strengthened.

We want our patients to re-enter their lives quickly, happily. By establishing a pulse for their days as healthy as the one they establish for their bodies.

SJA Class of 1959 celebrates 30th reunion

Special to the Echo

Twelve members of the 1959 graduating class of St. Joseph Academy gathered from the Coast, Florida, Texas, Alabama and Louisiana on Saturday, June 24 for their thirtieth high school reunion.

Eleven of them started the celebration in style with "a trip back in time" on that Saturday afternoon. Gwen Heitzmann Pendergraft of San Antonio, Texas, Jeanie Koehle Irwin of Foley, Ala., Mary Louise Peranich Cambre of Metairie, La., Mary Kay Christ Heeb of Coppell, Texas, Diana Larher Seal of Chalmette, La., Mary Virginia St. Louis McDaris of Gulf Breeze, Fla., and Linda Larher Tamsich, Nannette Penrose Stroh, Linda Erskine Curet, Celeste Chevis Proulx and Maria Elena Vassalli Strong, all of Bay St. Louis, met at homecoming court: Rosalie, Gwen and Queen Mary Louise.

Remember Marie Laveau, that prize-winning Halloween skit?

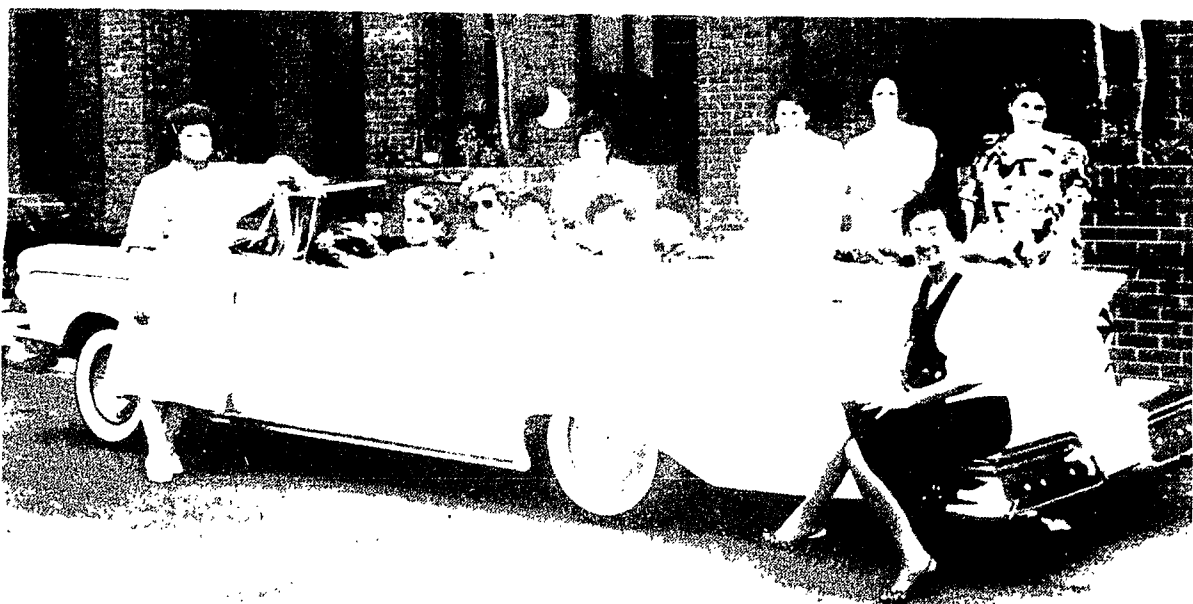

And the Christ the King processions, where everyone froze their buns?

There were monster bonfires at SSC and the Veterans Day parade in which they always drew a round of applause in front of the Bobby Ann Bakery on Main Street.

December/January/February

Who could forget the anticipation of the St. Stanislaus Christmas Dance and the tree that always stood in the center of the gym?

There was excitement over the approaching holidays, but sadness for those who would be separated from the loves of their lives for howev-

CRUISING—St. Joseph Academy '59 graduates cruised down memory lane in a '57

...the meeting room of the new Mississippi State University building in US 90 for a tea, gab and a champagne party that ended with a drive in the '57 Fairlane owned by Marvin Lacoste.

The group had a police escort and made their way down US 90 to Beach Boulevard, making a stop at the '57 Fairlane for signs. A mandatory trip to the beach was part of the outing.

Some of the fun was in true '50s spirit. A "V" sign was made, and letter sweaters, circle skirts, and catnip and apples, which, in 1959, were considered to be dangaries.

And the St. Peter's Church, patron of Our Lady of the Most Holy Trinity Church, welcomed those alumni who attended the 7:30 p.m. Vigil Mass on the 24th.

On the same evening, the aforementioned graduates and other guests joined by Rosalie, Compertita Wittmann and spouse, gathered at the American Legion Hall for a "50s" style supper with music by Speedo and the Rockets.

A buffet supper prepared by the grads, divided a cake and congratulations were extended to class members with June birthdays. Mrs. Curet read the following "walk down memory lane":

Between the fall of 1955 and the spring of 1959, 20 some odd little girls grew up, or so sister Raphael would have had them believe.

A flock of little green Martians wearing colander hats and Milk of Magnesia makeup became a herd of rowdy Rebels who left their mark on the hallowed halls of SJA.

They were innovators, to be sure, and for the most part, noisy ones as well.

September/October/November
Among their ranks, which reached 30 by the end of their high school tenure, were a goodly number to whom the month of September meant nothing more than the return of the St. Stanislaus boarding students.

And in celebration of that event, the Rebels sponsored a Harvest Hop, the likes of which no one before or since has seen.

Remember the fall Mississippi's first Miss America, Mary Ann Mobley, visited Bay St. Louis?

Remember the tender loving care with which they treated their Freshman Hobo servants in 1958?

Remember the formation of the Rock-A-Cheers and those black jackets that faded all over white blouses?

Remember their contributions to SSC's '58

...long the boarding students were away on holiday.

January invariably brought exams, but the plus side were study days off.

Another innovation for the class of '59 came in January of 1958, they opted for a Winter Wonderland prom to honor the class of '58. Remember "endless batches of snow" and the miles of telephone "bicycles"?

In February, there always was the Valentine Dance (have you noticed their social lives pretty much revolved around the "boys next door?"), and... what else?—Mardi Gras! Was it only the house ladies who managed to slip off to the Crescent City for a real taste of that holiday?

March/April/May

There was Lent and the end of a winning basketball season to mark March of 1959. Celeste was the star on that front!

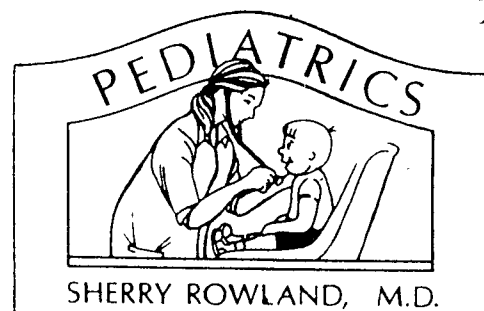

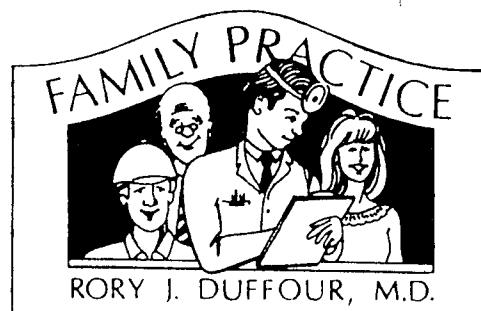

And, of course, their patron saint, Joseph, marked his feast day in March, along with St. Patrick, patron of most of the parish priests. They starred in "Princess Chrysanthemum," their senior year cantata, and a musical hit it was.

April brought another innovation by the class of '59—a senior trip instead of a prom. A week on a Greyhound bus taught them things about anatomy they'd never have learned elsewhere.

There was the May Festival (hats off to Queen M'lena and rounds of parties before, finally, at 8 p.m. on the evening of Wednesday, May 27, 1959, commencement...graduation...Lizca was valedictorian. Jeanie Koehle, salutatorian...11 of those seniors had been together since first grade: Celeste, Rosemary, Carolyn, Rosalie, Gwen, Judy, Marilyn, Linda, Jean, Pat and M'lena.

Ladner, Anderson, Caspolich attend FFA conference

Members of the Hancock Future Farmers of America chapter returned home recently from the Mississippi FFA Camp in Grenada, where they took part in the annual FFA Leadership Conference.

This four-day training session includes learning activities in areas such as personal development, public speaking, leadership skills, agricultural awareness and public relations as well as FFA contest, programs, and award areas available to the members.

The week, however, was not all work as the members had the opportunity to participate in many recreational activities at the Grenada FFA Camp, including swimming, volleyball, billiards and visits to the Grenada Lake for audio/visual presentation and a watermelon party.

Tyrone Ladner, Vicky Anderson and Renee' Caspolich with their advisor Gwen Necaise have returned with many new and exciting means by which their members can be challenged to achieve more in the FFA and community activities as well as in their adult lives.

Activities such as this are only one of many programs conducted by the FFA in an effort to keep "FFA—Agriculture's Leading Edge."

USM hosts career fair Sept. 21

The University of Southern Mississippi Office of Placement Services will sponsor a "career fair" on campus in September.

The Sept. 21 fair is designed to provide students with exposure to work opportunities offered by employers in the areas of cooperative education, summer employment, internships, teachings, part-time work and career employment, according to Placement Services Director Carl Lawrence.

Lawrence said he hopes many Mississippi employers interested in hiring USM students and graduates will attend, along with major companies and school systems from both in and out of state.

There is no charge for prospective employers to attend the fair, said Lawrence, although they should contact the USM Career Employment Office by Sept. 11. Interested employers should contact Diane Turner at 266-4153.

Preservation of Indian sites goal of UM clearinghouse

Many sites of Indian settlements across the country are being obliterated every year due to erosion, farming or community development. Once they are gone, the cultural information they hold is lost forever.

The National Clearinghouse for Archaeological Site Stabilization at The University of Mississippi is working to prevent such losses on federally-owned property by gathering and disseminating information about cost-effective, physically sound techniques for preserving sites until their excavation.

"Those of us who are concerned with site preservation or stabilization don't advocate excavation simply because it's there," said Dr. Robert Thorne, director of the clearinghouse and the Center for Archaeological Research at Ole Miss.

"Information contained in an archaeological site is a part of our national heritage, a part of all of us," he said. "We're interested in protecting and preserving sites until there is a justifiable reason to recover information for interpretive reasons."

Established in 1987, the clearinghouse is a joint effort of the Center of Archaeological Research at Ole Miss, the Cultural Resources Program of the Tennessee Valley Authority and the consulting archaeologist of the National Park Service. Currently, archaeologists are actively working to stop erosion of sites on reservoirs in Mississippi, Tennessee, Alabama and California and on the Cumberland Island Shoreline in Georgia.

Sites on private property are being lost, mainly from farming or development. However, unlike sites on federal grounds, they are not as fully protected by law. "Unfortunately, if archaeological sites are on private land, those sites are treated in the same way as natural resources, such as oil and gas. They are private property."

The clearinghouse can, however, give suggestions for stabilizing or preserving sites on private land. For more information, contact the Center for Archaeological Research at Ole Miss, University, MS 38677, telephone (601) 232-7316.

Arrowood receives scholarship from Martin Marietta

The Martin Marietta Corporation has awarded college scholarships to three children of Martin Marietta Manned Space Systems employees in New Orleans. The four-year scholarships are valued at $3,000 per year.

Adam Arrowood is the son of Jerry Arrowood of Bay St. Louis, a staff engineer at Manned Space Systems, and Gretchen Hall of St. Marys, Ga. Arrowood graduated first in his class from Camden County (Georgia) High School. He plans to study computer science at the Georgia Institute of Technology.

Van Tran is the daughter of two employees, requirements analyst Hai Thi Nguyen and final assembly technician Nghia Tran of New Orleans.

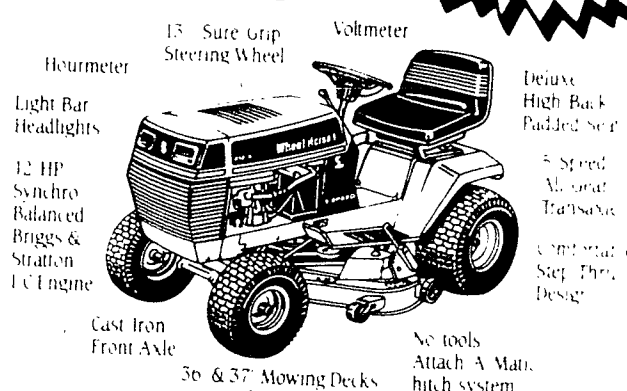

Edward Widofsky is the son of Bernard Widofsky, staff engineer at Manned Space Systems, and Joyce Widofsky of River Ridge.

Martin Marietta Corporation awarded 50 scholarships this year to students across the nation. Martin Marietta Manned Space Systems assembles the Space Shuttle External Tank at the NASA Michoud Assembly Facility in New Orleans.

AIRMAN KINCHEN

Barry J. Kinchen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewitt C. Kinchen, enlisted in the Air Force July 20, according to Sgt. Jerry Gordon, Air Force recruiter in Gulfport.

Upon successfully completing the Air Force's six-week Basic Military Training Course at Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Texas, he is scheduled to receive technical training in the air traffic control operator area.

Evaluate risks before trying wild mushrooms come in a variety of shades of white, brown, orange and red. In addition to the widely recognized toadstool shape of a cap and stem, wild mushrooms also come in a variety of odd and interesting shapes.

The most frequently asked questions about wild reputed to have flavors so exquisite that the flavor of the common button mushroom is described as something akin to cardboard.

At the risk of offending collectors and lovers of edible wild mushrooms, the best advice is mushroom or was it only a mushroom induced hallucination? Regardless, Alice got off easy.

Keep in mind the main reason some mushrooms are known to be poisonous is because someone got sick or died after eating them. The proof of edibility is in the eating. Severe illness and perhaps even death are stiff prices to pay for the simple error of putting the wrong mushroom in the harvest basket, so I stay away from the "gift" from Mother Nature.

There is no simple rule of thumb for making the distinction between edible and poisonous wild mushrooms. This is because there are so many different types of mushrooms, and the differences between them are small. Appearance and poisonous qualities differ with season and habitat, and poisonous and nonpoisonous mushrooms that look alike my grow together.

Some of the most poisonous mushrooms are in the group we commonly see growing as fairy rings on our lawns. It takes only a single bite of some poisonous mushrooms to kill an adult. While symptoms of poisoning may come on rapidly, with some mushrooms the symptoms do not appear until six to 24 hours after the mushroom is eaten. If this isn't enough to cause you to limit your mushroom eating to those purchased at the store, then consider extreme abdominal pain, profuse vomiting, distorted vision, degenerative changes in kidney, liver and heart, circulatory failure, coma, respiratory failure and death.

A recent article in the July issue of Reader's Digest details the poisoning of five people last year as a result of mushroom misidentification and the liver transplant operation on four of them. It's scary!

Is the reported delicious taste of certain wild mushrooms worth the risk? Not for me it isn't!

By Dr. Milo Burnham

Extension Service

Wild mushrooms spring up almost overnight in lawns, mulched beds, on logs, firewood and wherever there is moist, decaying organic matter. The over-plentiful supply of rain and high humidity have benefited the growth of these non-green plants in and around our yards this summer.

Since mushrooms lack the green pigment chlorophyll, they are unable to synthesize sugars like green plants and obtain their nutrients from decaying plant materials. Mushrooms mushrooms are: Can they be eaten? How do you tell the edible types from the non-edible types? In this case, non-edible means poisonous.

These questions are not easily answered because some wild mushrooms are edible while others are deadly poisonous. Telling them apart is extremely difficult.

Some wild mushrooms are to buy your mushrooms at the grocery store and bypass the opportunity to poison yourself, family and friends.

Wild mushrooms have held the interest of man for centuries. They have been a part of tribal religious ceremonies at least in stories and movies. Remember poor Alice in Wonderland? Did she get larger and smaller with each bite of the Mississippi ranks second in conservation planting

Mississippi ranked second only to Georgia in tree planting under the Conservation Reserve Program (CRP), according to a recent report released by the U.S. Forest Service Region 8 headquarters in Atlanta. Georgia ranked tops nationally in CRP tree planting with 599,000 acres.

Landowners in the Magnolia State have signed up for planting trees on 371,358 acres of highly erodible, former cropland since the CRP program began. Additional thousands of acres will enlarge that total after completion of the ninth sign-up period until Aug. 4.

The federally funded CRP program is administered by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS). The Mississippi Forestry Commission provides on-the-ground technical forestry assistance for landowners in the program.

The Forest Service report showed that 58 percent of all CRP acres accepted into the program in Mississippi involved reforestation. The State signed up a total of 644,256 acres in the CRP program. Owners will be paid an annual rental on their retired acres for ten years.

"We are very pleased with the way Mississippi landowners have responded to the CRP program," said State Forester Sid Moss. "These eroding and highly erodible soils will now begin to heal up and cease to fill in our stream bottoms with silt. Eventually these planted forests will provide a tremendous amount of income for their owners," Moss noted.

Setting dyes in fabrics

When washing soda, vinegar and salt are used in the laundry, they can help set the dye in the fabric. This is especially true when using liquid dyes.

When using liquid dyes, it is important to use the correct amount of dye. Too much dye can cause the fabric to become discolored.

American Poetry Association offers publication, prizes

Poets may enter the American Poetry Association's nationwide contest now. More than $11,000 in prizes will be awarded to 152 winners. Entry is free and everyone is welcome to enter.

The grand prize is $1,000 and the first prize $500. Other prizes include cash awards and publication.

"A special opportunity for undiscovered poets only comes along once in a while. That's exactly what this contest is. It can help you get published and gain greater public recognition," said Robert Nelson, publisher for the association. "Everyone who writes poetry is urged to enter our contest."

Poets may enter the contest by sending up to six poems, each no more than 20 lines, name and address on each page, to American Poetry Association, Dept. CT-56, 250-A Potrero St., P.O. Box 1803, Santa Cruz, CA 95061. Entries should be mailed by Dec. 31.

Every entrant receives a free copy of The Poet's Guide to Getting Published, a four-page booklet full of useful information.

Each poem is also considered for publication in the American Poetry Anthology, a leading collection of contemporary verse.

During seven years of sponsorship the American Poetry Association has run 32 contests and awarded $145,000 in prizes to 3,040 winning poets.

"People were chasing down our Dollar General trucks trying to find out where they could buy our goods."

The first Dollar General store opened more or less as an experiment in Springfield, Kentucky. It sold $8,000 of its $13,800 stock in the first two days. J.L. Turner and Son, Dollar General's founders were natural born traders. They were strong observers of people too. They began to notice that larger department stores occasionally held dollar day sales where all items were priced at one dollar or less. Cal Sr. decided that "with low overhead and volume buying, we should be able to have dollar days the year round in smaller towns." In fact, he was the man who coined the phrase, "Every day is dollar day at your Dollar General Store." In 50 years, several important things have always stayed the same. Dollar General still has the lowest overhead in the business which is why we still have, overall, the lowest prices in America. We still have even number pricing — refreshing in this day of computer bars and scanners. We still believe in hard work, common sense and fairness. And we still believe in small towns and small town people and realize that a lot of you now live in big towns. Look around, you'll find us in 23 states in towns large and small. We've always been your store and we always will.
